Defense Energy Support Center

The following is an explanation of the DoD Standard Price of Fuel, how it is derived, and why it is important to military customers.

What the Standard Price of Fuel is

The standard price of fuel is a tool that was created by DoD's fiscal managers to insulate the Military Services from the normal ups and downs of the fuel marketplace. It provides the Military Services and OSD with budget stability despite the commodity market swings, with gains or losses being absorbed by a revolving fund known as the Defense Working Capital Fund (DWCF). In years that the market price of fuel is higher than the standard price, the DWCF loses money. In years that the market price is lower than the standard price, it makes money. This gain or loss is made up by adjusting future standard prices to nominally break even the following year. Unfortunately, because the free market continues to reflect the laws of supply and demand, it is rare that our target of breaking-even in a particular year is ever reached. We do have budget stability, however.

The standard price is established well in advance of the fiscal year it is used. It is built by assembling the following blocks:

- A projection of the price of fuel 18 months in the future. (In December the standard price is

NON-DOD Customer Information (T- DoDAACs)

"T" DoDAACs - Requests and Information

23 September 2002

Q. What is a "T" DoDAAC?

A. "T" DoDAAC's are assigned by DESC-FII as a means of direct billing Non-DoD customers. Examples of Non-DoD customers include foreign governments, NATO organizations, FMS cases, civilian contractors, local MWR/NAF activities, and a variety of other local customers such as civilian emergency, medical and law enforcement agencies. "T" DoDAAC billing transactions, when used in conjunction with an "XP" Fund Code and an "A" Signal Code will result in DFAS-CO producing a manual bill directly to the Non-DoD customer.

"T" DoDAAC's are also used to record Replacement In Kind / Foreign Exchange Agreement (RIK/FEA) transactions. These type transactions actually bill a host service, which will reconcile with the foreign government at designated reconciliation meetings. RIK/FEA transactions will have either of the following billing information:

Q. How are "T" DoDAAC comprised?

A. The "T" in "T" DoDAAC does not mean anything in it's self. "T" is a series of DoDAAC's which DESC is authorized to establish and are comprised as follows:

Domestic DoDAAC Configuration Table

Character	Description	Example
1	DESC assigned prefix	"T" Constant
2	Category Code	"B" =Commercial Bill
3-4	State Code	"12" = Florida
4-6	Specific Customer or Program	"01"= State Police

Foreign Government DoDAAC Configuration Table

Character	Description	Example
1	DESC assigned prefix	"T" Constant
2	Category Code	"F" = Foreign Government
3-4	Country Code	"UK" = United Kingdom
4-6	Specific Customer or Program	"AG"= RIK/FEA Agreement "F1" = FMS Case "B1" = Foreign Government Bill
